DESCRIPTIVE.

SARATOGA SPRINGS is the Queen of Resorts, and at no other place in the world is so much splendor concentrated in so limited a space. The Village is surrounded by beautiful scenery, with blue ranges of mountains visible upon either side. The Springs, twenty-eight in number, no two of which are precisely alike in composition, are among the natural curiosities of the universe. The Village has a resident population of 12,000 and a Summer population sometimes of 60,000. Its hotels are the largest and most luxurious in the world; and its streets are the most beautiful. Broadway, the principal street, is lined with double rows of magnificent elms, and during the Season presents a spectacle unlike anything else to be found. The walks and drives in and about the Village are varied and full of interest. Saratoga Lake, a beautiful body of water, eight miles long and two and one-half miles wide, is but four miles from the Village, the road thither being 100 feet in width, and passing the race-course. Everything that taste and wealth can suggest has been done to make Saratoga the first of resorts, and more attractions are here offered than at any other watering-place in the world.
